Industry connections
Maintaining strong links with industry is critical to ensuring that Curtin serves your needs as well as workforce needs. Curtin Business School (CBS) has established a network of advisory boards – groups of industry representatives who support CBS by providing invaluable business knowledge. These industry professionals have direct input into the curriculum of the international business courses, ensuring you are industry-ready on graduation. Courses incorporate guest lectures from industry professionals, real-life practical assignments and case studies, as well as providing networking opportunities.

Learn from international experts
Postgraduate qualifications demonstrate your commitment to improving your skills and knowledge while keeping up-to-date with the latest developments. Studying at CBS enables you to learn from high-quality teaching staff who bring years of international work experience into the classroom. Our dynamic relationship with industry and research ensures your education remains exciting, innovative and relevant to the real world.
Professional associations
Graduates may wish to join the Academy of International Business (AIB) or Australia and New Zealand International Business Academy (ANZIBA) for knowledge sharing relevant to the field of international business.

Study overseas
If you are looking to widen your horizons through student exchange and cross-institutional study, CBS has developed significant international relations with universities across Asia, Europe and the United States, to provide you with the opportunity to gain international exposure firsthand.
