Progressing your career in this ever-changing and competitive world means standing out from the crowd. Take the next step in your professional journey with a unique postgraduate degree from a globally recognised university.

Curtin’s new Master of Business Administration (Advanced) is a diverse, two-year course designed specifically for students wanting to advance to senior management roles.

The course is an extension of Curtin’s flagship MBA, so features the same strong foundations as the general course, however, it also provides the chance to complete one of two specially designed research units, as well as additional broad-based business electives to enhance both research and business skills. What’s more, upon graduation you could be eligible to work in Australia for up to two years.*

WHY CURTIN’S MBA (ADVANCED) COURSE IS FOR YOU

The MBA (Advanced) features specialised research units that give you the chance to learn how industry and research connect, and how industry can impact upon research projects to create solutions and drive innovation.

Curtin Business School is an accredited member of the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB), which means the course meets the strict standards of academic and professional excellence, and also ensures that your business degree is recognised around the globe.

Our MBA course is known for its unparalleled quality of teaching, with three current members of staff having won national teaching awards.

Curtin’s business courses are shaped to be industry relevant, with input from a specialist advisory board on emerging trends in industry and government, as well as contributions to course delivery by industry speakers.

As part of your course, you will also complete a professional portfolio, involving a minimum of 40 hours of professional development. It comprises seminars, career development workshops and events, providing extensive networking opportunities.

*Provided you meet the conditions of the visa.

MBA (ADVANCED) SPECIALISED RESEARCH UNITS

You can select one of two double credit specially designed research-based units.

APPLIED RESEARCH PROJECT

This unit is designed to consolidate and draw upon your professional experience, knowledge and skills by giving you the chance to work with an industry partner to identify and develop an industry project that is relevant to both yourself and the organisation. You'll have the chance to apply your theoretical knowledge and build on your existing professional networks while experiencing a new workplace environment.

RESEARCH PROJECT

This unit is designed to enhance your business-based research skills by providing the opportunity to conduct a research project around your area of specialty. Through intensive group discussions and feedback, you’ll be given guidance on the research parameters of the project. You’ll then create a research proposal, conduct a research project, and produce and present a ‘white paper’ to stakeholders, based on your research method and outcomes.

OPTIONAL UNITS

Choose two of five optional units that focus on enhancing your business strategy, entrepreneurial and leadership skills:

CREATIVITY AND ENTREPRENEURSHIP

Encourages entrepreneurial and creative thinking skills through the development of a business plan for a new venture, from identifying opportunities to implementation through creative problem solving, business model design, resource identification, strategy development and risk management.

FUNDAMENTALS OF LEADERSHIP

Explores contemporary leadership theory and practice, including emergent leadership theories, ethics and governance, cross-cultural leadership and the role leaders play in building sustainable organisations.

STRATEGIC OPERATIONS MANAGEMENT

Discusses the value management, capacity planning and scheduling, process management and manufacturing quality.

MANAGERIAL EFFECTIVENESS

Explores effective strategies for organisational learning, coaching, time management, negotiation, stress management and communication, clarifying personal and professional vision, as well as examining the developing roles of managers in regional and global environments.

STRATEGIC PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Focuses on core project management elements including scope management, time management, cost management, risk management, communication management and human resource management.
